THE BALTIC FLEET.

It Opened Fire on the Hull Fishing Fleet in the North Sea.

ONE OF THE VESSELS WAS SUNK.

Other Fishing Ships Were Badly Damaged and Several of Their Crews Killed and Wounded.

The News Has Created Intense Sensation and Indignation in Great Britain—Without Warning Russian Ships Began Firing.

Hull, Eng., Oct. 24.—A. M. Jackson & Co., solicitors for the owners of 50 Hull fishing boats, have notified the foreign office and admiralty of an attack on the Hull fishing fleet by the Russian second Pacific squadron, commonly designated as the Baltic fleet. The official information is that shortly after midnight Friday the Russian squadron fell in with the Hull fishing fleet in the North sea. The first portion of the fishing fleet passed safely. Then the Russian ships turned their searchlights on the British vessels for some time and a little later opened fire. The steam trawler Crane was sunk and the decapitated bodies of her skipper and mate have been brought to Hull. The boatswain and other members of the crew who are understood to be seriously wounded, are on board the mission ship.

The steam trawlers Moulmein and Mino have arrived at Hull seriously damaged by shots, the latter having 16 holes in her hull. It is feared that other damage was done to the trawlers and that at least one more was lost with all hands.

The only survivor of the Crane who has yet reached here is J. A. Smith, son of the deceased skipper, and who, with the captains of the Moulmein and Mino, is going to London to consult with the authorities. Young Smith was asleep in his bunk when the firing aroused him. Just as he was getting up, a shot struck the starboard and penetrated to the fore-castle, smashing a lamp near which he was standing. He rushed on deck where the searchlights revealed the horrible sight of his father and Leggett lying headless and the deck strewn with the injured. It was soon found that the vessel was sinking and signals for assistance were sent up. Smith and others concur in the details of the firing that have already been given.

London, Oct. 24.—The steam cutter Magpie, belonging to the Gamecock trawler fleet, which was fired on by the Russian Baltic fleet, arrived in the Thames Sunday night. Her captain, Peaker, confirmed the details of the story received from Hull. He says:

"Friday night there were about 40 vessels of the Gamecock fleet fishing in latitude 55 degrees 15 minutes, and longitude 5 degrees 6 minutes. It was a misty, drizzling night. We spread over an area of some miles. Our admiral had just previously signalled by rocket and colored lights the fishing direction for the night. Whether that had anything to do with what followed I do not know; the whole thing is a mystery."

Hull, Oct. 24.—The news has created an intense sensation and indignation in Hull. The Moulmein arrived with her flag at half-mast. Her skipper states that the trawlers were fishing about 220 miles east by north of Spurn Head at 1 o'clock Saturday morning, the weather being heavy, when the outlines of several vessels, apparently warships, sailing in a line, were dimly seen. Whilst the crew were watching the warships, searchlights were flashed upon them, in the glare of which the Moulmein's crew observed what they took to be torpedo boats approaching, apparently with the intention of boarding the Moulmein. They steamed away, however, and soon the fishermen were horrified to find they were being fired upon. First one and then another trawler was struck by flying shot. What seemed to be a round shot went through the Moulmein's galley. The Mino, lying nearby, also was struck with many shots, but fortunately the damage was above her water line and none of her crew was struck. The bombardment lasted about 20 minutes. When it had ceased the fleet sailed southward, and some of the trawlers sent up rockets. The Moulmein steered in the direction of the rocket. Soon cries were heard, and the Crane was found sinking with another trawler taking off some of her crew. Those seriously injured were removed to a mission ship and the bodies of Smith and Leggett were placed aboard the Moulmein. The other men with minor injuries were put aboard the trawler Sea Gull, which at a late hour had not arrived at Hull.

Portsmouth, Oct. 24.—The report is confirmed here that vessels of the Russian Baltic fleet stopped and searched merchantmen off the Isle of Wight.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Astonishment that the Russian commander should have committed such a blunder as to fire on inoffensive fishing vessels as reported in dispatches from Hull prevailed in official circles Sunday night. At the same time these officials are prompt to express the opinion that the Russian government will promptly disavow the act and apologize when the facts are fully known. The tragedy, it is realized, adds to the complications which the Baltic fleet already encountered ever since it was determined that the vessels should go to the far east.

LOUISVILLE MAN SUICIDES.

He Was the Grandson of the Late Dr. Bell, of Southern Fame.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24.—Wallace Bell, who committed suicide by cutting his throat in Chicago Sunday morning, was a grandson of the late Theodore S. Bell, who was the most noted physician in the south 30 years ago. He was 32 years of age and was for several years the athletic instructor of Central university, at Danville. Recently he was employed by J. M. Robinson, Norton & Co., of Louisville, but left for Chicago to better his position. H. H. Bell, assistant managing editor of the Times, said Sunday night that he knew no possible reason for his brother's suicide except that he had probably been discouraged by the failure of his efforts to secure what he wanted in Chicago. Mr. Bell's mother lives here. The body will be brought here for burial.

A NEWPORT BOY.

He Built a Yacht, Making the Model and Patterns.

Newport, Ky., Oct. 24.—Gus Kocher, Jr., a bright Newport boy of 16, has built, during his hours not devoted to study, a yacht capable of holding eight people. It is the fastest craft on the river between Cincinnati and Louisville. It is propelled by a three-horse power gasoline engine, and in a trial trip Saturday made a record of 12 miles up stream against a current that was unusually swift. The boat is 20 by 5 feet, is a little gem as to construction and has lines so graceful as to attract the attention of all lovers of the beautiful. Young Kocher, whose father is a machinist, worked for more than a year on the craft. He made the models and patterns, and from them built the yacht, piece by piece, in his own home.

A GRIZZLY BEAR.

It Attacked Two Men Thrown From a Vehicle.

Lagrange, Ky., Oct. 24.—Richard Bolls, a liveryman of this city, and D. I. Duncan, a commercial traveler from New York, had a thrilling encounter with a huge grizzly bear near Brownsville. The men, on their way to this city, were overtaken by a violent hail and wind storm, which overturned their buggy and threw them out. When they rose from the ground they found themselves face to face with the big beast. The animal showed fight, and during the struggle which ensued the men were considerably bruised and scratched before they could make their escape. The bear belonged to some roving Italians, and had become enraged from being pelted with the hail till it broke its chain and ran away.

FATAL DOSE OF CHLORAL.

John Bachman Found Dead in Bed By His Wife.

Newport, Ky., Oct. 24.—As the result of ignorance in regard to the use of drugs, John Bachmann, 43, who resided on Home street, Clifton Heights, is dead at his home. He suffered from nervousness and insomnia Saturday night and sent to Newport for some chloral hydrate. Fifteen to 20 grains is a dose for an adult, but Bachmann took two drams, or nearly 120 grains. He slept heavily after that, and when his wife attempted to arouse him Sunday she found that he was dead. He brought his family here last week from Indianapolis. He leaves a wife and one child.

Kentucky's Next Bishop.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24.—Rev. J. N. McCormick, of Grand Rapids, Mich., stands the best chance of becoming Episcopal bishop of Kentucky in the opinion of leading Episcopals here. Dr. McCormick has been favorably considered before, though his name was not presented at either of the previous councils.

A $100,000 Fire at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 24.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the extensive junk handling plant of S. Weber & Son, at Preston and Washington streets, Sunday, entailing a loss estimated by the owners at $100,000.

A CHILD KIDNAPED.

Later the Body Was Found With Forehead Crushed and the Throat Cut.

SIX GIPSIES WERE ARRESTED.

Only the Quick Action of the Police Saved the Men From Being Lynched by a Mob.

The Child's Remains Were Discovered in An Abandoned Farm House—Nearby Lay a Club With Hair and Blood On It.

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—With the forehead crushed and the throat cut, the body of four-year-old Michael Mayergki, who was kidnaped near his home in Phoenixville, 28 miles from this city, Friday evening by a band of men supposed to be gypsies, was found Sunday in an abandoned farm house a few miles from Valley Forge. In connection with the murder six men belonging to a party of gypsies were arrested by Chief of Police Carter, of Phoenixville, and several constables, and after an exciting time were lodged in jail at that place. Only the courage and quick action of the police saved the prisoners from being roughly handled by a large crowd of excited people.

The child was picked up Friday evening by a party of men who were driving through the town in two covered wagons. A boy saw them take the child but before he could attract any one's attention to pursue the kidnapers they had disappeared. All day Saturday and Saturday night searching parties were out trying to trace the wagons, but without success. Sunday while three men were in the woods gathering chestnuts they accidentally came across the body of the boy. Nearby lay a club with hair and blood on it. The authorities were quickly notified and the entire police force of Phoenixville and vicinity started out in search of gypsy bands. During the afternoon one party came across a company of them and took them into custody. They denied any knowledge of the crime.

The report that six gypsies had been arrested soon spread through Phoenixville and hundreds of men and women gathered along the streets. As the prisoners were brought through the streets there were cries of "Lynch them," "Burn them." The officers drew their revolvers and kept the angry crowd back. At the lock-up a large crowd was gathered, and the officers had difficulty in getting their prisoners through the threatening mob into the jail. The prisoners were badly frightened.

MRS. GAVIT'S LOSS.

She Left $25,000 Worth of Jewelry on a Seat in a Depot.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Police in all parts of the country were notified Sunday of the loss of $25,000 of jewelry of Mrs. E. P. Gavit, of this city, wife of the secretary of the Municipal Gas Co., and daughter of Anthony H. Brady, the well-known millionaire gas operator. Mrs. Gavit inadvertently left a small hand satchel containing the jewelry on a seat in the Grand Central station in New York city Friday afternoon and did not discover her loss until her train, which makes no stops between New York and Albany, was well on its way.

Wanted at Bardstown.

Bardstown, Ky., Oct. 24.—Milton Taylor, arrested in Peoria, Ill., is wanted in this county on the charge of stealing a horse and buggy from James Tellerr, near Chaplin. Taylor's brother, Preston, is now serving a term in the penitentiary for the same offense. Milton Taylor broke jail here a year ago.

Burned By Gasoline.

Newport, Ky., Oct. 24.—Leo Krebs, brother of City Clerk Peter Krebs, attempted to kindle a fire in the furnace with the aid of gasoline, mistaking it for coal oil. There was an explosion and Krebs was badly burned about the face and arms.

Used a Shotgun.

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 24.—James Yokus was shot and mortally wounded at Camp Cristy by George Blanton, nephew of County Attorney Judge William Blanton. The men were drinking together, and quarreled over a trivial matter.

Prominent Business Man Dead.

Dayton, Ky., Oct. 24.—Alvin M. Roberts, 33, prominent business man, died Sunday morning at a Dayton hospital. He was taken ill about a month ago with typhoid fever. He was a son of the late Judge M. L. Roberts, of Covington.

Part of Colonel Jeff Eason's hen house went up in smoke this morning. It is supposed this was, in striking a light to select the plumpest birds, dropped a match in the straw and set fire to the place.

A gentleman from the eastern end of the county reports gunners plentiful in his neighborhood and wants to know if Game Wardens have been appointed. He says the new hunting law is a good one and the people want to see it enforced.

Mr. Robert Brown's pony created quite a little stir Sunday morning by dashing down Second street to Sutton, over Sutton to Third and east on Third, clearing everything, making the turn and finding his way home without doing any damage.

The opera house management guarantees "A Royal Slave" to give satisfaction or money refunded after the first act. The critics, they say, are lavish in their praise of this new play and pronounce it one of the most worthy productions that has been seen in recent years. After so many of the cheap, trashy melodramas that we have had here, "A Royal Slave," it is hoped, will prove a welcome diversion Tuesday night.

Friday night's storm seems to have extended over the major portion of the state. Reports come from many points of damage to farm buildings. The high wind blew down a number of hay and straw stacks in this county and near Paris a "twin" tobacco barn, 120 by 120 feet, belonging to James Thompson, erected at a cost of $5,000, was blown across the interurban line. The damage will approximate $9,000. The barn was filled with tobacco, the produce of thirty acres, which will almost be a total loss. It was dry, and the timbers falling on it, pulverized and broke it so that it will be practically unmarketable. The crop was estimated by Mr. Thompson to be worth $4,500. The barn was insured at $2,000 and the contents at $2,500. A large tree on Mr. Thompson's place was also blown down, and all houses in the neighborhood felt the shock of the gale.

River Items.

It is reported negotiations are on for the purchase of the Dick Fowler for the Cincinnati-Maysville trade.

Major F. H. Hodges of the War Department is inspecting improvement work in the upper Ohio.

The party of Kanawha river towboat pilots who passed down some days ago on the yacht Daisy from Ft. Pleasant on a trip of river-bed inspection, report that the low water reveals a number of changes in the bed of the stream and a number of new bars have been formed.

Capt. William H. Stafford has presented Pittsburg harbor with a copy of "The Western Pilot," published in 1849. It gives maps and a description of the rivers from Pittsburg to New Orleans. With the exception of a few dams and dikes, the Ohio river presents much the same water for the pilot it did in 1849. at the Mississippi shows many changes.

The Ohio River Improvement Convention, to be held at Huntington, W. Va., November 16 and 17 and 18, is being boomed by its officers at different points. John M. William, officer of the association, left Cincinnati Friday for up-river cities. Officers say the meeting will be a record breaker. The Secretary has sent out circulars to every prominent river man from Pittsburg to New Orleans.

POLITICAL FIGHT.

One Man Was Shot to Death and Another Received Fatal Stab Wounds.

HAD JUST LEFT CHURCH SERVICES.

Half a Dozen Members of the Congregation Were Engaged in the Trouble.

The Dead Man Was One of the Wealthiest Residents of the Community—Three Men Have Been Placed Under Arrest.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 24.—Within half an hour after benediction had been pronounced at the close of services in the little church near Mill Creek, on the Big Sandy river, Sunday, one man who had listened to the sermon was dead and another was fatally stabbed. The tragedy was the result of a political argument in which half a dozen members of the congregation engaged after leaving the church. The dead:

William Kennedy, 39 years old, leaves a wife and family.

The dying: Henry Wellman, stabbed during the fight.

The state tax laws are an issue of importance in the pending campaign in West Virginia and when church was out a group of men stood near the building and began discussing the question. The argument grew bitter and in a short time blows were struck. Ralph Wellman, who had taken a leading part in the dispute, is alleged to have drawn a revolver and shot Kennedy, who died within a few minutes. A moment after the shot was fired, Henry Wellman, a relative of Ralph, received a knife thrust and fell with blood streaming from a wound in his chest. The authorities were notified and Ralph Wellman, Foster Wright and John Shrewsbury were placed under arrest. It is alleged that Shrewsbury is the man who stabbed Henry Wellman.

William Kennedy, the dead man, was one of the wealthiest residents of the community, and all those who took part in the fight are well known and respected.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

The men in the house rushed out to grapple with the stranger who had done the deed, but he stood them off with a revolver and made his escape in the darkness. The police have been hard at work on the case, but have no description of the murderer and no clues to work on. No arrests have been made yet.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.
MONDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1904

THE Mason County crowd are not taking kindly to "Wozy Bill" Dearing as a Republican leader and handler of the hoodle in this neck o' woods. "The Old Guard" especially, we understand, are kicking vigorously against his assumption. They object to being bossed by a renegade Democrat from another county, who turned traitor in the hope of being rewarded with a nice, fat office. The local Republican politicians expected to get a chance at the swag themselves, and are sorely disappointed because they have been turned down.

JUDGE PARKER in addressing a delegation on the subject of administrative extravagance, answered a speech made by Secretary of War Taft, in which the Secretary called upon the Democrats to give a bill of particulars in connection with their charge that economy in Government affairs had been forgotten in the years the Republicans have been in control of national affairs. Judge Parker quoted a few totals from official reports, which, he asserted, not only raised the presumption of extravagance, but proved it. A bill of particulars will be given, he said, when a Democratic administration gets a chance at the books.

EVERYBODY FOR KEHOE.

U. S. Congressman Kehoe received all that was coming to him he would get the support of every voter in Maysville, irrespective of color or party affiliation. The Fourth ward especially ought to be for him to a man, showing their appreciation of his good work for that particular section of the city.

Through Mr. Kehoe's efforts about $71,000 has been expended in Maysville on public improvements, and it should be remembered that this money did not come from the pockets of local tax-payers, either, but is funds that would not have been paid out here but for Mr. Kehoe's untiring efforts.

Let's keep the Congressman who has done more for his district in a few years than did all his predecessors.
'Rah for Kehoe!

NOT A MILITARY PEOPLE.

"We are not a military people, bent on conquest, or engaged in extending our domains in foreign lands, or desirous of securing natural advantages, however great, by force; but a people loving peace, not only for ourselves, but for all the nations of the earth."

"The display of great military armaments may please the eye and, for the moment, excite the pride of the citizen, but it cannot bring the country the brains, brawn and muscle of a single immigrant, nor induce the investment here of a dollar of capital. Of course, such armament as may be necessary for the security of the country, and the protection of the rights of its citizens, at home or abroad, must be maintained. Any other course would be not only false economy, but pusillanimous. I protest, however, against the feeling, now far too prevalent, that by reason of the commanding position we have assumed in the world, we must take part in the disputes and broils of foreign countries; and that because we have grown great we should intervene in any important question that arises in other parts of the world. I also protest against the erection of any such military establishment as would be required to maintain the country in that attitude. We should confine our international activities solely to matters in which the rights of the country or of our citizens are directly involved. That is not a situation of isolation, but of independence." [From Judge Parker's speech of acceptance.]

EXTRACTS

From Bryan's Louisville Speech

If anybody says to a Silver Democrat he ought not to vote for Parker because he doesn't give you all you want, your reply can be: "That while Parker does not give you all that you want, Roosevelt will give you nothing that you want." Every man is responsible for his influence.

When I say to you that I want every man who voted for me to vote for Parker and Davis, I do not mean to say that our platform contains all that I wanted it to contain, or that our ticket stands for all that I wanted it to stand for, but, my friends, that is not in itself a criticism of either platform or ticket. I was a candidate. I did not stand for all that many who supported me wanted me to stand for, and my platform did not contain all that I desired in the way of good for the American people. If men think—if they have high hopes for their country—they do not always see, aye, they do not often see in any platform all that they would like to see in a platform. Why, if a man insists that his platform should contain all that he believes in and nothing that he objects to, there would be just one man in a party, and he would have to be the party's candidate for the Presidency, and we would have a million parties in the United States.

THE BULL IN THE CHINA SHOP.

The Inauguration at Danville.

Rev. John Barbour of this city was one of the speakers at the inaugural of Dr. Frederick Hinitt to the Presidency of Central University at Danville on the 18th inst. Governor Beckham (class of '55) responded to the famous statement of Sir William Jones, "What Constitutes a State?"

The new President stands by the traditions of this fine old school. "The aim of education," he says, "must be to produce scholars who are not mere book-worms, but disciplined thinkers, with the power of initiative. Such scholars in politics as the late Senator Hoar, he declares, have been the saving element in American life."

Maysville Citizens Gladly Testify.

It is testimony like the following that has placed "the old Quaker remedy" so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Maysville citizen.

Mr. Elias Scudder, nurseryman, residing at 215 Casto street, says: "I had a good deal of pain at times in my right kidney and it constantly grew more persistent. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I could hardly sit down in a chair, or rise without placing my hands to my back, and should I thoughtlessly bend over, it pained me severely to straighten. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drugstore, corner of West Second and Market streets, and their use affected an absolute cure."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
